ALUMNI HAVE BIG TIME AT THIRD ANNUAL BANQUET

Dine, Talk, Sing and Dance at the High School in Big Party Last Night

THERE WAS A CLASS OF '75

Interesting Discovery Is Announced by Mrs. Harrison. One of First Grads Still Lives

Dined
Talked
Sang
Yelled
Danced

Re-elected President Helen Dorset and other officers with enthusiastic praise of the skill and devotion with which the organization has been coaxed through a precarious infancy.

These are some of the things that were done at the annual banquet and ball of the High School Alumni association at the high school last evening, wherein it was disclosed that Otto M. Schlabach is a toastmaster of Murphy magnitude. Under the whip of his humor speakers grave and gay contributed brilliantly to the success of the meeting and to the enjoyment of 170 graduates and their friends who attended.

Officers Re-elected

At a business meeting which succeeded the dinner all but one of the old officers were re-elected for the coming year. They are: Miss Helen Dorset, president; Otto M. Schlabach, vice president; Mrs. Harry W. Curtiss, secretary; Ray L. Dickinson, treasurer.

Stanley Gordon and Miss Gertrude Sisson led the grand march in the ball which followed the business meeting.

Following the delightful banquet, a toast-program of unusual brilliance was enjoyed, perhaps the most interesting number being "Thirty Years Ago," the contribution of Mrs. Gertrude Harrison, '85. Mrs. Harrison, with yellowed program and diploma of three decades ago as exhibits, took the old grads back into the long ago, comparing the high schools of then and now. She recalled, with relish, that her class had numbered five, of whom one was a man, J. Edward Smith, and from his loneliness afflicted with the dubious honor of being subject for one of the graduation orations.

The idea was prevalent until last night that the class of '76 was the first one to be graduated from a La Crosse high school, and that Mr. Martindale was the oldest living graduate. That error was corrected at the banquet when Mrs. Gertrude Harrison of the class of '85, told of the discovery of the class of '75. The class numbered three, only one of whom is now living. He is Dr. Hofstetter, thought to be in Clinton, Ia. The other members were Miss Lulu Daniels and Mr. Ora Austin, both of whom are deceased.

The credit for the discovery is given to Miss Dorset and Howard Jones, who ascertained the facts while doing "research" work.

Discusses Loan Fund

The first speaker introduced, Mr. Benezet, spoke of the scholarships and loan fund. He outlined briefly the purpose of the fund—to help needy students, desirous of furthering their education, by loaning them money at a small rate of interest. The system of scholarships is also to be established, as conducted by colleges. In order to accomplish this purpose letters have been sent out to forty-seven members. To date $950 has been pledged, Mr. Benezet said.

Miss Geneva Caldwell, '86, took for her subject "Pictures for the High School." She dwelt on the phase of the subject, "A room hung with pictures is a room hung with thoughts." Miss Caldwell spoke of the advantages to be gained from knowing a few good pictures.

Miss Hickisch Pleases

Miss Anna Hickisch, '93, rendered in her usual pleasing manner, "The Nightingale and the Rose." The deafening applause forced her to give an encore. Miss Lois Halik accompanied Miss Hickisch on the piano.

Mr. Otto Bosshard, class of '94, in his toast, "The High School Employment Bureau," explained the purpose of the agency and its results so far. Up to this time thirty-five students have found positions through this medium. The association employs a secretary, to whom applicants for jobs must hand their names. By means of the card index system, the secretary is able to supply the demand for students.

Miss Fay Shuman of the class of '01 pleasantly rendered a violin solo, "Meditation," from Thais. She was roundly applauded, responding with an encore.

Jones Asks Larger Membership

Mr. Howard M. Jones, '10, and author of "The Masque of Marsh and River," spoke on "Membership." He made a strong plea for an increased membership, asking for at least 600 members by the end of this year. Out of 1,246 members graduated from the local high school, only 206 have seen fit to enroll in the association, Mr. Jones said.

At the conclusion of Mr. Jones' talk, a short business session was held. The treasurer's report was read by Mr. Jones in the absence of Mr. R. L. Dickinson.

SURPRISE WEDDING IS AFTERMATH OF ALUMNI BANQUET

Fred W. Dickens and Miss Grace Gesell Attend Feast and Are Married Immediately Afterwards

WEDDING PROFOUND SECRET

Mr. and Mrs. Dickens Are Enroute for East Where Groom Is Physical Instructor in School

Although only four of the guests knew it, the alumni banquet at the high school last night was a wedding feast, it became known today with the knowledge that Miss Grace Gesell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Gesell, and Fred W. Dickens, city playground supervisor, had been quietly married immediately following the feast, and are today on their way east.

The wedding was a complete surprise to all but Mr. and Mrs. Dickens' most intimate friends and immediate relatives.

Escaping from the alumni feast when it broke up for adjournment to the gymnasium for the annual ball, Miss Gesell and Mr. Dickens, with Ralph Bradish and Miss Winnifred Forbes, climbed into an automobile and made haste to the Congregational church parsonage, where they were pronounced husband and wife by Rev. C. C. Rowlison. Mr. Bradish and Miss Forbes were the attendants.

Then there was a dash for the train and Mr. and Mrs. Dickens were off for Chicago, Philadelphia, Boston and New York. They will visit the places named before returning to Philadelphia, where Mr. Dickens is physical director at the Chestnut Hill academy.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickens were classmates at the high school. Both graduated in 1909. Mrs. Dickens has been instructor in domestic arts at the high school for the last two years, and the bridegroom has been advancing in his work as a physical culture instructor. For the last two years he has been supervisor of playgrounds here during the summer months, and had made arrangements last fall to continue the work again this year. Swearing Park Superintendent Forrer to secrecy yesterday afternoon, he divulged his plans and secured his release.

SHIPPERS AGAIN ATTACK ALLEGED EXORBITANT RATE

Representative of I. C. C. Will Hear Local Complaints Here on July 27

Another attempt to lower what are maintained to be exorbitant freight rates charged by railroads bringing merchandise into La Crosse will be made by the La Crosse Shippers' association and the Manufacturers' and Jobbers' club.

Examining Attorney Kelly of the interstate commerce commission will hear complaints of La Crosse shippers at a hearing in the federal court room here July 27.

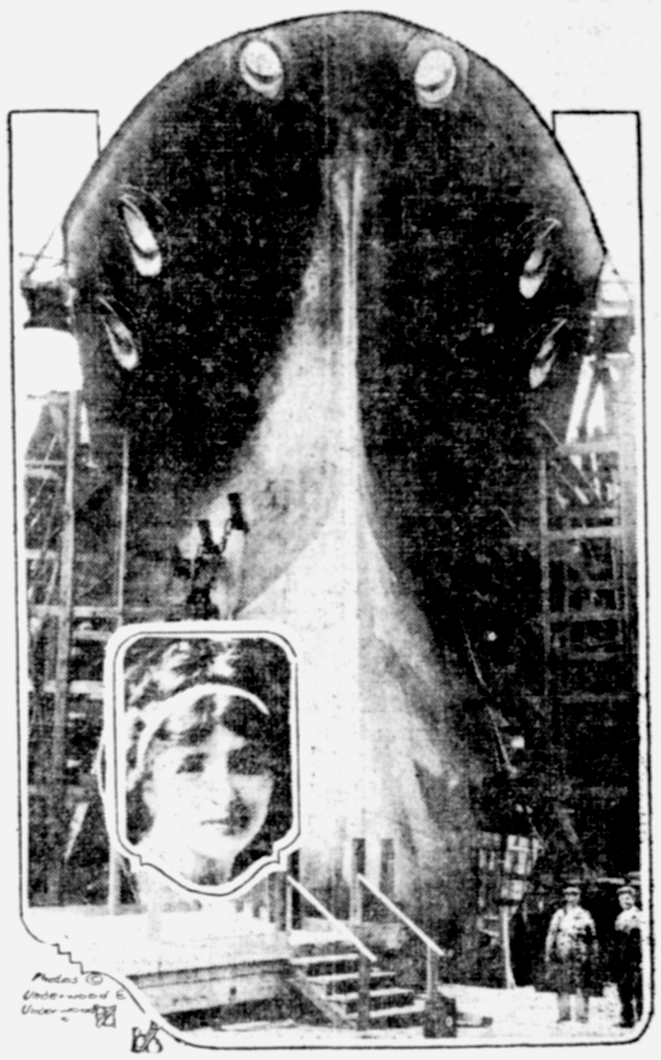
The hearing will concern inbound freight from the official classification territory as well as rates on cotton linters, used by local manufacturers of clothing.

The hearing will be the third within a few months in La Crosse and the complaint will attack the entire rate structure from territory north of the Ohio river and west of the Atlantic coast to Chicago.

SON OF T. R. FINED

NEW YORK, June 19.—Archie Roosevelt, son of Col. Roosevelt, was fined $25 by a West Farms magistrate today for speeding an automobile 35 miles an hour.

WORLD'S GREATEST FIGHTING SHIP IS LAUNCHED WITH IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES AT NEW YORK



Bow of Battleship Arizona and Miss Esther Ross, Who Christened the Vessel

The superdreadnought Arizona, which was launched today in the New York navy yard, is designed to become the most terrible weapon of defense afloat. Miss Ross christened the vessel with champagne and water from the Roosevelt dam.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Christened by both champagne and water, the latter from the first spillings over the Roosevelt dam, Uncle Sam's newest and greatest superdreadnought, the 31,400 ton Arizona, left her wooden cradles and glided into the water of the East river at a few minutes after 1 o'clock today. As Miss Esther Ross, the pretty sponsor from the state after which the new sea fighter is named, broke bottles of wine and water over the ship's bow, a band struck up the national anthem and 50,000 spectators wildly cheered.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Governor George W. P. Hunt of Arizota, with their staffs, Secretary of Labor Wilson, Mayor Mitchell, Senator O'Gorman and other notables witnessed the launching of the great giant ship.

Governor Hunt personally brought the water from his native state in a big demijohn.

It was originally planned to use only water as Arizona is a prohibition state, but both the wets and drys were satisfied when it was announced that wine and water would divide honors in christening the great ship.

"Queen of the Seas"

"The Qpeen of the Seas" was the title given the Arizona by Secretary of the Navy Daniels in an address before the launching.

"The purpose for which she exists is protection of the American home," said Daniels. "The Arizona is the latest addition to a fleet whose purpose is to be the right arm of American defense in case of attack by a foreign foe."

"The launching is an event which tells better than words the steady and orderly growth of the navy," continued Secretary Daniels, declaring that since the spring of 1914 nine dreadnaughts have been launched, commissioned and contracted for and two more authorized by congress.

Otto Weddigen Dies When U-29 Is Sunk By British Tanker

BERLIN, via Wireless to Sayville, June 19.—A British tank steamer, flying the Swedish flag, rammed and sung the German submarine U-29, whose loss was admitted several weeks ago, the admiralty announced today.

The U-29 was commanded by Otto Weddigen, German U boat hero, who won from the British the title of "the polite pirate" because of the consideration displayed for crews of torpedoed merchantmen. The admiralty statemen, today declared that Weddigen's humane treatment of merchant seamen undoubtedly cost him and his crew their lives.

Weddigen ordered the tank steamer to stop and show its papers, the admiralty said. Taking advantage of this delay, the British steamer rammed the submarine and sent her to the bottom.

"This is sure proof of the British abuse of neutral flags," said one of the Berlin newspapers today.

"This illegal attitude of British tradeships has compelled German submarine commanders to consider their own safety first and sink such vessels without warning. A change in German submarine warfare is impossible without England changing her uncivilized methods."

AMERICAN KILLED

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Gilbert Teanhl, an American superintendent, was killed June 16 as a result of interfering in a private quarrel at Chargos, near San Luis Potosi, Mexico, the state department was advised today.

SECRET PACT TO LIVE APART PUTS JONAH ON DIVORCE

Mrs. Leo Arner Told About It to Keep Husband Out of Jail and Now She Must Keep Him

JUDGE HIGBEE REFUSES DECREE

Marriage for Convenience Finds No Easy Gate to Dissolution in La Crosse County

To keep her husband out of jail, Mrs. Mathilda Arner will have to remain married for a period of five years before she can hope to obtain the divorce which was agreed upon secretly when she wed Leo Arner at Winona, Minn.

Matrimony for convenience in La Crosse is not practical, the young bride found out today, when Judge E. C. Higbee blasted her hopes, and she found that it was much easier to get married than to get un-married.

Mr. and Mrs. Arner were married secretly at Winona. They had agreed to live apart and to seek legal separation, but Mrs. Arner did not make the pact known to the court in asking her divorce.

When Judge Higbee heard the suit last Saturday, he ordered Arner's arrest, through a charge in Mrs. Arner's complaint that she had been deserted one day after marriage.

The husband was duly arraigned. His wife was subpoenaed, and in order to keep Arner out of jail, she had to admit that she had not been deserted, but that she and her husband had agreed to pursue their happiness apart. Judge Higbee learned of the incident in county court, and today denied the divorce.

Mrs. Arner's only hope is that divorce may be granted after five continuous years of separation.

Judge Higbee today granted divorce to Belle Jargo from her husband James Jargo; Anna Rockamann from Fred Rockamann, and to Barbara Dowling from Thomas G. Dowling. Marriage cannot be made for one year in each case.

The divorce suit of Sarah Bott vs. Charles Bott was continued.

Judge Higbee ordered the prosecution of Thomas G. Dowling and Fred Rockamann, who, it was alleged, deserted their wives without cause.

AUSTRIAN TROOPS PURSUED

ROME, June 19.—Austrian troops who were driven out of Russian Bessarabia, are being hotly pursued by reinforced Russian armies, said a Bucharest dispatch to the Messergao today.

ALLIES' ATTACK UPON STRAITS FACES HEAVY OBSTACLES SAYS WOOD

BY HENRY WOOD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 1.—(By telegraph to Berlin and The Hague, thence by mail to New York.)—The allies' attack upon the Dardanelles faces practically unsurmountable obstacles. This is the concensus of opinion in well informed circles here, where it is believed that unless some unexpected factor develops, the campaign to force the straits is doomed to defeat.

The Turks have perfected a secret system of movable batteries which not only prevent the Anglo-French fleet from locating their constantly moving positions, but enable the defenders to maneuver their guns rapidly to meet every attack by the battleships.

The bombardment from the fleet does little damage. I know personally that the entire Gallipoli peninsula literally bristles with nearly 1,000 guns of the largest calibre. The Turks seemingly have almost inexhaustible resources of men.

Military and naval attaches to the various embassies here tell me that the submarine fleet which Turkey now has is insufficient to prevent the passage of both the Bosphorus and the Dardanelles, regardless of their other defenses. Although English submarines have entered the Sea of Marmora, they cannot reach the principal units of the Turkish fleet which are kept moored behind impassible barriers.

GERMAN MILITARY ELEMENT AGAINST GRANTING DEMANDS

Party Fearful That Making of Concessions Would Create Impression of Ultimate German Defeat

WOULD CONCEDE PROTECTION

Leaders Would Have This Country Keep Passengers Off Boats Carrying Munitions

BY JOHN EDWIN NEVIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 19. — The German military element is making a determined stand to keep the diplomatic party from making concessions to the United States. Both official and unofficial advices from Berlin indicated this today. The reason is declared to be a belief that if the United States secures all the concessions she demands, a mistaken impression will get abroad that Germany fears eventual defeat. The conflict at Berlin is declared to be the first real difference of opinion that has developed since the war began.

Would Take up Bryan Plan

The military group is declared willing to concede that Americans are entitled to their government's protection under all circumstances and that they and other neutrals have a right under international law to go anywhere they please; but the group's leaders are urging the government to put squarely up to the United States the proposition that, inasmuch as the allies are carrying munitions on passenger vessels, the government here should take up for serious consideration former Secretary Bryan's suggestion that the navigation laws be so construed as to compel steamship companies to keep passengers off such boats.

The suggestion also is made that the United States could easily withhold passports from American travelers who will not agree to take passage on vessels under the American flag.

LOCAL MEN WILL HAVE HEARING ON FIGHT FOR PARDON

Minnesota Pardon Board Will Listen to Kolb, Hammond and Kalderwit on July 8

John Kolb and Charles Hammond of La Crosse, who, with Orlin Kalderwit, were sent to the Minnesota state penitentiary on May 16, 1905, after being convicted of the murder of Freddie King at Columbia Heights, Thanksgiving eve, 1904, will have a special hearing July 8. Friends have assured the state pardon board that they have new evidence to prove the innocence of the three men, and the hearing was granted Thursday.

Mrs. R. B. Harris, 1413 Charles street, who has interested herself in the trio and has been active in their behalf for more than a year, returned yesterday following attendance at the meeting of the board. She expects to attend the hearing in July.

The King boy was present with his father in a saloon at Columbia Heights at a turkey raffle when three men entered and began to shoot up the place. The boy was struck by a bullet said to be intended for the bartender. Kolb, Hammond and Kalderwit were arrested later and given life terms.

At a meeting of the pardon board in December, W. R. Williams, a Minnetonka farmer, said he believed the men were innocent and told of a conversation he had heard between a trio in a Minneapolis saloon, in which they mentioned shooting a boy in Columbia Heights.

A woman who knew the three men and whose story, their friends assert, will clear them, may appear at the special hearing. Hitherto she had not told what she knew because her husband feared the notoriety, it is said.

MACKENZEN HURLS VIOLENT ATTACK AGAINST GRODEK

German Forces Undertake Assault of Russian Positions West of Lemberg

BERLIN, via Wireless to London, June 19.—General Mackenzen has launched a violent attack against the Russian positions at Grodek, fifteen miles west of Lemberg.

The official statement today reported the beginning of the battle that will decide the fate of Lemberg. Once driven out of Grodek, the Russians will not attempt a serious stand at Lemberg, according to German military men but will prepare to evacuate all of Galicia.

Along the front stretching northwest of Lemberg, the Russians are called back. South of Lemberg Gen. von Linsingen is pushing the Slavs northward in the region between the Dneister marshes and Stryj.

German troops have repulsed all Russian attacks around Shavli.

F. AND M. DISEASE ORDER

WASHINGTON, June 19.—An agriculture department foot and mouth order issued today and effective June 21, created fresh modified, erstricted and free areas in Connecticut, Illinois, Kansas, Kentucky, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Virginia.

TREASURY BALANCE

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The treasury's working balance reached $25,519,973 today, due to $1,086,601 income tax receipts.

TEN MILLION MEN ARE KILLED WOUNDED OR MISSING SAYS CONSUL

DENVER, June 19.—Upwards of ten million men have been killed, wounded or taken prisoners in theEuropean conflict up to March 1, according to unofficial figures subscribed today by Dr. Kurt Ziegler, German consul here.

Without Belgians, Serbians, Montenegrins and Japanese, the allies' casualties were 6,044,000.

The Teutonic allies, not including the Turks, suffered losses of 2,979,000, in the first seven months.

The total of 9,023,000 is unofficially increased to upwards of ten millions when casualties of the other belligerents are included.

Dr. Ziegler stated he obtained his figures from a Seattle German newspaper who presumably obtained the estimates for the Teutonic losses from the German Red Cross and the allies' casualties from the latest available lists.

The tabulated figures he made public follow:

	Germany	Austria	France	England	Russia
Dead	482,000	341,000	464,000	116,000	733,000
Slightly wounded	760,000	618,000	718,000	185,000	1,500,000
Seriously wounded	97,000	83,000	439,000	49,000	482,000
Prisoners	233,000	183,000	405,000	83,000	770,000

MEXICAN FACTIONS ARRAYED AGAINST U. S. INTERVENTION

Villa Accepts with Modifications Indicating Readiness to Oppose United States Policy

CARRANZA IS "STANDING PAT"

Still Upholds His Claim of Being Mexico's "Iron Man" Aiming to Take Capital

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The Mexican situation was shaping up rapidly today. The "convention forces" excepting Villa are suarely arrayed against the new Wilson policy. Villa has accepted, with modifications, indicating readiness to become actively hostile to the United States at a moment's notice. Carranza "stands pat" on his claim that he is Mexico's "man of iron." For the first time in his career, however, he is trying to conciliate the United States. He aims to capture Mexico City, so as to be in position to demand American recognition.

The first chief may be recognized. He would agree to name as provisional president some official who is eligible under the constitution. From his connection with the murdered Madero's government, Carranza would not be opposed by the United States should he then announce his candidacy at a general election to be called as soon as possible.

Howard Has Hard Task

It is admitted that Admiral Howard may have a strenuous task in rescuing the Americans in the Yaqui valley on the west coast. He has been told that if he needs either more men or ships all he needs to do is to order them from the reserve stations on the coast.

It is understood that while more light draft gunboats will be sent to Mexican waters from time to time, it is not the government's intention to send any additional battleships into southern waters unless a crisis arrives. The gunboats are better fitted for this work, and it is thought best for the summer at least the battleships would be held at their home stations.

Carranza Takes to Harbor

WASHINGTON, June 19.—General Carranza has shifted his headquarters from the city of Vera Cruz to San Juan Ulua island in Vera Cruz harbor.

The state department was uncertain today whether or not this meant Carranza had sought refuge after trouble with his followers. However, it was known he had accepted four cabinet members' resignations.

Split Reported

EL PASO, Texas, June 19.—A split in the conventionalist faction and peace plans connected with the Washington administration was reported in dispatches from Mexico received here today.

The Villista delegation to the Mexico City convention disagreed with the Zapatista delegation and bolted. What effect this will have on the attempt of Carranzistas to occupy the capital is uncertain, but the split probably weakened the Zapatista defense.

Minister of Foreign Relations Diaz Lombardo, accompanied by General Felipe Angeles are enroute to the border and expect to go next week to Washington for a conference with administration officials on Mexican peace plans.

This report allays fears that Villa and Angeles were at swords points.

Angeles' trip to Washington is considered significant as he is a possible candidate for recognition as Mexico's iron man.

Villista advices are that Obregon's Carranzista army is withdrawing southward and evacuating Leon, scene of the bloody battle which ended in a draw.

SEARCH FOR PIANIST

CHICAGO, June 18.—Search for Miss Grace Stewart Potter, pianist, protege of wealthy Mrs. George M. Pullman, strangely missing since Sunday, was directed toward Milwaukee today.

Walter Thomas of Evanston said he recognized newspaper pictures of the girl as the one who got her shoes shined at his Evanston shop early Tuesday morning.

LAST TOUCHES PUT ON CITY DECORATION

Last touches to the decorations of the business district for the Eagles' convention of next week were put in place today, with the decoration of the white way posts, the slinging of a giant golden key across Fifth and Main streets, and a big streamer across Fifth street in front of the Eagles' club. A unique touch to the decorations of the white way was the fastening upon each post of a shield bearing the name of one of the aeries in the state.

FORMER RESIDENT HEADS THE G. A. R.

William J. McKay Who Now Lives in Madison, State Commander; City Delegates Back

La Crosse delegates, who attended the annual state encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic which was held at Wausau Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, have returned to the city.

William J. McKay, Madison, formerly of La Crosse, was elected department commander for the coming year.

This year's encampment was attended by about 600 G. A. R. men, while over 1,000 members of the Daughters of Veterans and Women's Relief corps were also present. The parade was one of the features of the encampment, the veterans, whose average age was nearly 80 years, marching like boys. There were 202 state posts represented at the meetings.

The next annual encampment will be held at Ripon.

Local people who went to Wausau were C. L. Hood, commander of Wilson Colwell post, No. 38; Theodore Hauser and T. E. Dalton, and Mrs. Anna Hilbert, president of the Women's Relief corps, No. 2, and Mrs. Marie Stingle, Mrs. A. F. Nekola and Mrs. Cora Jenks.

CANDY STEALERS GET OFF LIGHTLY

Jerome Amburg, 23, and William Priest, 19, hoboes, were given light sentences Thursday afternoon by Judge Brindley on charges of larceny. The charge of breaking into a Milwaukee box car was not prosecuted, and the men went to county jail for forty-five days each. They took four tins of tobacco and a quantity of candied popcorn, although it is not known certainly that the goods were stolen in La Crosse. It is presumed that the men rode here in the car from another point.

The Tribune's Daily Short Story

AFTER FORTY YEARS

BY BARBARA RHODES

Copyright, 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

"Love and romance be hanged!" snorted Uncle Zeb, pounding the floor with his cane. "There isn't much romance in cottages and crust. Marry Lue Farday and I change my will today."

"Shall I telephone Mr. Dodd to come down, Uncle Zeb?" asked Ted lazily.

Uncle Zeb could take a dare.

"If that is your answer to my ultimatum—yes. Tell him I wish to make important changes in my will," he said significantly.

Ted moved over to the telephone, picked up the receiver and held it to his ear, calling for long-distance connection.

Uncle Zeb watched him from under beetling brows.

It irritated Ted Borland's uncle to see that young man so deliberately throwing away a fortune, but, of course, he couldn't see his only nephew marry into the Farday family without making a vigorous protest. The Fardays and the Borlands had wrangled over boundary lines and sundry other matters for a decade, and now that the younger generation showed a disposition to be friendly the old man's wrath was stimulated to frenzy.

He could see through the whole matter, he told himself a dozen times a day. The Fardays had lost much of their money and were land poor; now there was only Miss Henrietta and her niece, Lue Farday, left on the place. No wonder Lee Farday was angling to marry Ted Borland!

"I won't have it!" growled Uncle Zeb.

Ted was talking to Mr. Dodd, the lawyer. His pleasant drawling voice exasperated Uncle Zeb beyond control.

"Ah, Mr. Dodd!" Ted was saying. "Uncle Zeb wants you to come down to Borlands this afternoon—oh, you can easily make the 2:02 train. Something about changing his will, I believe! I suppose so—thanks—good-bye."

"Think you're mighty clever to have him down here, don't you?" quavered Uncle Zeb.

"I thought you wanted him down, Uncle Zeb," returned Ted with a straight look from his brown eyes.

"I didn't believe you were such a fool," grumbled the old man. "How are you going to support that Farday girl?"

"Lue," corrected Ted quietly. "Why, we thought we'd live on the old place with Miss Henrietta, and I'm going to raise chickens. You know I've had considerable luck experimenting on the farm here."

"Chickens!" yelled Uncle Zeb, pounding his gouty toe by mistake and almost fainting with agony. "You going to disgrace me by starving to death next door?"

"I'd disgrace myself as a man if I couldn't support myself and a wife, to say nothing of a thistle-down creature like Miss Henrietta," retorted Ted. "Of course, I shall keep my position in the office until the business is started. So long as I don't ask any favors of you, Uncle Zeb, you shouldn't complain. Leave your money where you like, it's yours to do with as you please. I shan't complain."

"Fool!" groaned Uncle Zeb tearfully.

The telephone bell jingled from its corner.

"Answer it, Ted."

Ted's handsome head inclined to the instrument.

"Yes?—Oh, you, darling? I'm coming over presently. Something important? Aunt Henrietta?—Jove, Lue, but that's a blow. Would you very much mind crowding into a tiny flat in the city? I might make good after a while—oh, of course your aunt needs some one. Perhaps I can talk her around to our way of thinking. I'm coming over right now. Good-bye, sweetheart. Don't grieve, it will come out all right-o."

He hung up the receiver and crossed the room to look down at the little ried-up old man with quizzical eyes.

"I suppose Henrietta Farday objects to having anything as practical as a chicken farm on her estate," sneered Uncle Zeb.

Ted shook his head.

"It isn't that, Uncle Zeb. "Miss Henrietta objects out and out to my marrying Lue—says she'll be hanged if her niece marries a bullying Borland. So there you are!".

"And your girl won't chance marrying on your salary?"

"Yes," said Ted proudly; "only she thinks it's her duty to Miss Henrietta to remain with her. Henrietta is not very well, and there is no other relative."

"Pooh!" sniffed Uncle Zeb. "Go away, do. I am sick of your mawkish romancing. I want to take a nap."

As soon as he was alone Uncle Zeb peered from the window until he saw that Ted's figure had disappeared through the gate. Then the old man hobbled across the room to the telephone and called for a local number.

The deeply masculine voice of Miss Henrietta Farday came in answer.

"This is Zeb Borland," began Uncle Zeb, doubtfully.

"Humph! Bullying Borland!" commented Aunt Henrietta in her most forbidding accents.

"You never gave me an opportunity to disprove that title, Henrietta," protested the old man.

"Glad I didn't! If I'd married you, I would have been more miserable than I am now. Glad my father put his foot down—just as I've put my foot down on your nephew's love-making."

"Put your foot down?"

"Yes—both feet! There won't be any bullying Borlands in my family," declared the old lady.

"You can't know Ted very well. Why, he isn't a real Borland anyway—he's more like his mother's folks, the Terrys; pure gold all through. He's good enough for any girl in Almos county—or the world, for that matter.

"He isn't good enough for my Luella! I don't know how you can say he isn't a Borland. Why, he's the living image of what you were, Zeb Borland, forty years ago."

"Ted—looks like me—I did? Pshaw. Henrietta, I never was half as good looking as Teddy." Uncle Zeb's voice bore a pleased note.

"You were better looking!" contradicted the lady sharply. "I can prove it by that miniature—"

Silence for a moment.

Uncle Zeb smiled into the mouthpiece of the instrument.

"Henrietta Farday—have you kept that picture of me?"

"I keep lots of trash!" came in a stifled tone.

"I've got your picture, Henny, but I don't call it 'trash,'" said Uncle Zeb in an oddly gentle tone. "You—want to trade pictures with me?"

A hush—then:

"You better keep the one you got—and I'll keep mine."

"I should be lonesome without it," whispered Uncle Zeb. "I've kept it in my pocket so many years, Henny, I'd miss it. But I suppose you've kept mine in some trash box—along with other trash."

"Zeb Borland, I'm a liar," blazed Henrietta with all the fire of her youth. "I've worn your miniature next my heart all these years because it's all there was left of—love! Laugh, if you want to."

"Henrietta!" How eager was the old voice now. "It isn't too late to have a little happiness—just us two—and the young folks—why, there is enough room in these two houses for all of us—and for another generation. What say, Henny?"

"Yes," came Henrietta's answer along the line. "There isn't any use contradicting a bullying Borland."

'ACTION' BASIS OF CONWAY'S PLANS

"Something Doing All the Time" for Guests of Aerie 1254 at Big Convention

HE HAS NOT OVERLOOKED LADIES

Visiting Members of the Fair Sex Will Make Headquarters at K. P. Hall

"Action" is the basis of plans for entertaining the visitors at the big Eagles' convention, which will be held in La Crosse next week, which have been completed by Edward J. Conway, chairman of the entertainment committee, who announced the program today.

"I have arranged the week's festivities in such a way that there will be something for the visitors to do every minute of the time," said Mr. Conway.

Mr. Conway has appointed Mrs. Nick Webber chairman of a ladies' committee of twenty-five who will plan the program of events for the visiting ladies. Mrs. Charles Dittman will be the registration clerk for the ladies. Headquarters for the visiting ladies will be at the K. P. Hall, which has been engaged for the week.

A program of comedy and other stunts has been arranged for every day in the week and at all times of the day. This program will begin Monday evening.

An automobile ride for the ladies will take place Tuesday afternoon, with one of the ladies of the entertainment committee in each car to point out the various points of interest to the visitors. The men will also be given an auto trip later in the week.

The fair association's large tent has been secured for the week and will be pue on the vacant lot on the corner of Fifth and State streets, where it will be used as a rest room. The tent will be provided with more than 200 chairs, it will be well lighted in the evenings, and the band will give concerts there at various times during the day.

FORMER ENVOY SPY?

ROME, June 19—The Milan newspaper Corriere Della Serra prints a report that Prince von Radolin, former German ambassador to France and the Princess von Radolin were arrested on espionage charges in Berlin several weeks ago. What disposition was made of their cases is not known, the Milan newspaper declared, the government guarding the affair as a close secret.

PAPERS BEWAIL AVIATOR'S DEATH

LONDON, June 19.—Death of Reginald A. J. Warneford, brilliant young Canadian aviator who won a Victoria cross by destroying a Zeppelin less than two weeks ago, evoked expressions of deepest regret in the early editions of the afternoon papers.

The papers commented on Warneford's sudden rise to fame by his exploit of June 7 and declared that his tragic death on the French flying field at Buc was a great loss. They dwelt at some length upon the death of Henry Beach Needham, the American magazine writer, who was Warneford's passenger.

Some men are so forgetful that they even fail to remember the poor.

GIVE THE POLICE THE NEEDED TOOLS

The sudden outbreak of robberies which marked the month of May seems to have stopped as abruptly as it began. To the credit of the police it may be said that the majority of cases have been cleared up, with the malefactors for the most part now behind the bars. But so far the the police have not brought to book the perpetrator of the first night's series of burglaries of May 14 last. Behind the fact that the thief is still at large lies a story whose implication should not be lost.

At the home of John Elliott, clear and distinct upon the window-pane, the thief left a series of finger-marks. The police found a suspect—they had a good supposititious case, but there was not enough evidence for an arrest. To verify their suspicions they tried to get photographs of the finger-prints—and failed for lack of the right materials. In the meantime the suspect left the city. The police were forced to watch him go without lifting a hand, for they dared not arrest him on the slender evidence they had. Had they had a system of finger-print identification, the mystery of the early robberies would probably have been solved.

The case is a concrete example of the need of the local thief-taking agencies—the police and sheriff's office—for some system of criminal identification. Without a means of connecting men with whatever records they may have left behind them, La Crosse authorities must go by guess. They may release a noted crook, wanted in many places, because he is not known. Or they may hold an innocent man when a cursory comparison of his finger-prints would absolutely exonerate him of the crime of which he is suspected. Conversely, they may prove the guilt of a man who might otherwise defy conviction.

At their last meeting the county board postponed without action the city's proposal to share half the expense of installation and bear the entire cost of maintenance of a Bertillon and finger-print identification system for the joint use of the city and county. It is coming up at their next session, and it is to be hoped that the supervisors will take favorable action.

POLICE SCANDAL

The resignation of Officer Ritter from the La Crosse police force will not serve to lower the prestige of the department. In the hour of his retirement to private life we are not disposed to pass judgment upon charges that have been made against him. Suffice it to say that he had become so involved in a mess of scandal as to cripple his usefulness as a patrolman and to reflect discredit upon the department.

The resignation of Ritter is but a beginning of the change necessary in order that men who wear the blue can hold up their heads in pride of place. Other resignations are in order, and should they not come voluntarily, they should be invited. Fairness to the department, fairness to the decent men on the force, fairness to the citizens who pay the bills, demands that certain men who have abused their uniforms retire from the public service. Citizens who complain that we have too much police notoriety will observe that notoriety is the price the people pay in order that a few petty delinquents may hold their jobs. Unless these men go there will be scandal, for they give gossip opportunity.

PUBLIC SERVICE STRIKES OBSOLETE

The prompt settlement of the Chicago streetcar strike by the intervention of the mayor is new evidence that public service strikes are practically obselete. The settlement by state intervention of the Indianapolis trolley strike, after a week of rioting and several deaths, was vigorous and complete.

There are three parties to a public service strike, and the public interest is supreme. Public opinion always was a weight in the balance. Now it has means of quick intervention by forcing arbitration under state or federal law, or the better alternative of voluntary arbitration chosen in Chicago.

The field of public service is widening with the extension of state and municipal regulation over supply of food necessaries like milk and ice, as well as light and water. Where the interest of the third party, the public, is so extensive as to be supreme, the strike is giving place to a compulsory settlement of differences by impartial arbitration and without interruption of service.—Minneapolis Journal.

GREEK KING RALLIES

ROME, June 19.—The Greek legation received a message from Athens today, representing that King Constantine has rallied and that his condition shows some improvement.

An official bulletin issued by the king's physicians at Athens early today and transmitted to the United Press, said the king was "very weak." It is not known whether the message given out by the Greek legation at Rome was of earlier or later date than the United Press dispatch.

COUNTERFEITERS PARDONED

EL PASO, Texas, June 19.—General Villa today pardoned George Marx of El Paso and Samuel Finkelstein of Rochester, N. Y., who were under sentence of death for circulating counterfeit Villa currency. The release of the men resulted from representations made by Special Agent Carothers of the state department, who is accompanying the pair here.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

That Car

He owned a handsome toburing car,
To ride in it was heaven.
He ran across a piece of glass—
Bill, 14.97.

He took his friends out for a ride,
'Twas good to be alive.
The carburetor sprang a leak—
Bill, $14.97.

He started on a little tour,
The finest sort of fun.
He stopped too quick and stripped his gears—
Bill, $90.51.

He took his wife downtown to shop,
To save car fare was great.
He jammed into a hitching post—
Bill, $278.

He spent all of the coin he had,
And then in anguish cried:
"I'll put a mortgage on the house
And take just one more ride."

Was Very Human

"This car," said the demonstrator, "is almost human. Perhaps you have noticed—"

"Yes, I have," said Binks, dryly. "It reminds me of several men I know—been smoking ever since we left the garage, and the last hill we climbed it puffed like a porpoise. Haven't you something that is less human and more generally satisfactory?"

Had Forgotten Articles

The teacher was examining a class of small boys on geography.

"Now," he said, "is there any boy who would like to ask a question on what we have gone over?"

Small Boy—Yes, sir. I would like to know what the axes of the earth are laid on?

Teacher (somewhat confused)—We have not come to that yet, boy.

Force of Habit

We gazed pitying on the listless drug store clerk leaning against the soda counter.

"Haven't you any ambition?" we queried kindly and all that.

"No," he replied, with brightening intelligence, "but I have something just as good."

His Reasoning Unanswerable

Sir William Ramsey once heard a brief conversation between a little boy and girl.

"I wonder what we're here in the world for?" asked the little boy, who seemed to be suffering from some childish grievance.

"We are put here to help others, of course," answered the little girl, with an air of superior wisdom.

"Um!" exclaimed the boy disdainfully, "then what are the others put here for?"

Clinched His Argument

"Ma," remonstrated Bobby, "when I was at grandma's she used to let me have two pieces of cake."

"Well, she ought not to have done so, Bobby," said his mother. "I think two pieces of cake are too much for little boys. The older you grow the more wisdom you will gain."

Bobby was silenced, but only for a moment.

"Well, ma," he said, "grandma is a good deal older than you are."

What He Cut Out

A man took the following telegram to a telegraph office:

"Mrs. Brown, Center street: I announce with grief the death of Uncle James. Come quickly to read the will. I believe we are his heirs.—John Blank."

The telegraph clerk having counted the words, said:

"There are two words too many, sir."

"Cut out 'with grief,'" was the reply.

Speaking Tiringly

Alice, an enthusiastic motorist, was speaking to her friend Maude in relation to the slowness of a certain young man at proposing.

"Charley seems to start easy," she remarked, "and he speeds up well; but just at the critical moment he always skids."

ITCHING BURNING SKIN TROUBLE

Scratched and It Would Burn and Hurt. Spread Larger and Larger. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In Two Weeks Well.

Joppa, Ill.—"I was annoyed both day and night by itching and burning on my leg. The trouble broke out with a rash something like heat, was raw and began to get worse. It itched very badly. I would scratch until the blood would come and then Oh! how it would burn and hurt. It began to spread larger and larger. It would hurt when my clothing touched it.

"I tried several remedies, such as ——— Salve, ———, etc., without success. I had this trouble about ten months before I began to use Cuticura Soap and Ointment. First I would wash the affected parts with Cuticura Soap and then apply the Cuticura Ointment. In two months I was completely well and it has not returned." (Signed) Roscoe Taylor, July 9, 1914.

"NAVAL POWER IS PARAMOUNT," SAYS ADMIRAL CHADWICK

Rear Admiral F. E. Chadwick.

The paramount part which navies of the world, including that of the United States, have played in times of international crises—in many cases holding the scale between national triumph and desperate national defeat—is pointed out by Rear Admiral F. E. Chadwick in his book, "The American Navy," just published. Admiral Chadwick holds that the United States can only remain a world power through a navy of sufficient size and efficiency to "command safety and peace."

LOVE INSURANCE

A COMEDY ROMANCE

By Earl Derr Biggers

Author of Seven Keys To Baldpate.

"Mr. Thacker is the head of our office," smiled Mr. Minot. "It has been thought best that some one go with you, Lord Harrowby. Some one who will work night and day to see to it that Miss Meyrick does not change her mind. I—I am the some one. I hope you are not annoyed."

"My dear chap! Not in the least. When I said this morning that I was quite set on this marriage, I was frightfully sincere." And now his lordship's face, frank and boyish, in nowise belied his words. "I shall be deeply grateful for any aid Lloyds can give me. And I am already grateful that Lloyds has elected you to be my ally."

Really, very decent of him, Dick Minot bowed.

"You go south tonight?" he ventured.

"Yes. On the yacht Lileth, belonging to my friend, Mr. Martin Wall. You have heard of him?"

"No. I can't say that I have."

"Indeed! I understand he was very well-known here. A big, bluff, hearty chap. We met on the steamer coming over and became very good friends."

A pause.

"You will enjoy meeting Mr. Wall," said his lordship meaningly, "when I introduce you to him—in San Marco."

"Lord Harrowby," said Minot slowly, "my instructions are to go south with you—on the yacht."

For a moment the two men stared into each other's eyes. Then Lord Harrowly pursed his thin lips and gazed out at Fifth Avenue, gay and colorful in the February sun."

"How extremely unfortunate," he drawled. "It is not my boat, Mr. Minot. If it where, nothing would give me greater pleasure than to extend an invitation to you."

"I understand," said Minot. "But I am to go—invited or uninvited."

"In my interests?" asked Harrowby sarcastically.

"As the personal conductor of the bridegroom."

"Mr. Minot—really—"

"I have no wish to be rude, Lord Harrowby. But it is our turn to be a little fantastic now. Could anything be more fantastic than boarding a yacht uninvited?"

"But Miss Meyrick—on whom, after all, Mr. Jephson's fate depends—is already in Florida."

"With her lamp trimmed and burning. How sad, your lordship, if some untoward event should interfere with the coming of the bridegroom."

"I perceive," smiled Lord Harrowby, "that you do not share Mr. Jephson's confidence in my motives."

"This is New York, and a business proposition. Every man in New York is considered guilty until he proves himself innocent—and then we move for a new trial."

"Nevertheless"—Lord Harrowby's mouth hardened—"I must refuse to ask you to join me on the Lileth."

"Would you mind telling me where the boat is anchored?"

"Somewhere in the North River, I believe. I don't know, really."

"You don't know? Won't it be a bit difficult—boarding a yacht when you don't know where to find it?"

"My dear chap—" began Harrowby angrily.

"No matter," Mr. Minot stood up. "I'll say au revoir, Lord Harrowby—until tonight."

"Or until we meet in San Marco," Lord Harrowby regained his good nature. "I'm extremely sorry to be so impolite. But I believe we're going to be very good friends, none the less."

"We're going to be very close to each other, at any rate," Minot smiled. "Once more—au revoir, your lordship."

"Pardon me—good-by," answered Lord Harrowby with decision.

And Richard Minot was again threading his way between awed tables.

Walking slowly down Fifth Avenue, Mr. Minot was forced to admit that he had not made a very auspicious beginning in his new role. Why had Lord Harrowby refused so determinedly to invite him abroad the yacht that was to bear the eager bridegroom south? And what was he to do now? Might he not discover where the yacht lay, board it at dusk, and conceal himself in a vacant cabin until the party was well under way. It sounded fairly simple.

But it proved otherwise. He was balked from the outset. For two hours, in the library of his club, in telephone booths and elsewhere, he sought for some tangible evidence of the existence of a wealthy American named Martin Wall and a yacht called the Lileth. City directories and yacht club year books alike were silent. Myth, myth, myth, ran through Dick Minot's mind.

Was Lord Harrowby—as they say at the Gaiety—spoofing him? He mounted to the top of a bus, and was churned up Riverside Drive. Along the banks of the river lay dozen of yachts, dismantled, swathed in winter coverings. Among the few that appeared ready to sail his keen eye discerned no Lileth.

Somewhat discouraged, he returned to his club and startled a waiter by demanding dinner at four-thirty in the afternoon. Going then to his rooms, he exchanged his overcoat for a sweater, his hat for a golf cap. At five-thirty, a spy for the first time in his eventful young life, he stood opposite the main entrance of the Plaza. Near by ticked a taxi, engaged for the evening.

An hour passed. Lights, laughter, limousines, the cold moon adding its brilliance to that already brilliant square, the winter wind sighing through the bare trees of the park—New York seemed a city of dreams. Suddenly the chauffeur of Minot's taxi stood uneasily before him.

"Say, you ain't going to shoot anybody, are you?" he asked.

"Oh, no—you needn't be afraid of that."

"I ain't afraid. I just thought I'd take off my license number if you was."

Ah, yes—New York! City of beautiful dreams!

Another hour slipped by. And only the little taxi meter was busy, winking mechanically at the unresponsive moon.

At eight-fifteen a tall blond man, in a very expensive fur coat which impressed even the cab starter, came down the steps of the hotel. He ordered a limousine and was whirled away to the west. At eight-fifteen and a half Mr. Minot followed.

Lord Harrowby's car proceeded to the drive and, turning, sped north between the moonlit river and the manlit apartment-houses. In the neighborhood of One Hundred and Tenth Street it came to a stop, and as Minot's car passed slowly by, he saw his lordship standing in the moonlight paying his chauffeur. Hastily dismissing his own car, he ran back in time to see Lord Harrowby disappear down one of the stone stairways into the gloom of the park that skirts the Hudson. He followed.

On and on down the steps and bare wind-swept paths he hurried, until finally the river, cold and silvery, serene, lay before him. Some thirty yards from shore he beheld the lights of a yacht flashing against the gloomy background of Jersey. The Lileth!

TO CHANGE RECALL LAW

MADISON, Wis., June 19.—(Special.—The recall law as applied to commission governed cities is evidently due for a change by this legislature. Also, that the name of a qualified voter at the time he signs the petition shall be counted.

BRYAN IN THIRD ARTICLE ADVANCES PEACE METHODS

Mediation, Arbitration and Education Called Remedy for War

WASHINGTON, June 19. — The Bryan "remedy" for war—mediation, arbitration and education—was announced by the former secretary of state here today. It is the third and last installment in Bryan's discussion of the "causeless war."

Bryan divides his "remedy" like his whole discussion into three parts. He advises as the first step, joint and several offers of mediation by the United States and other neutrals.

Next he urges utilization of the Bryan peace treaty plan—one year's investigation of international disputes—which would allow "passion to subside and reason to resume sway."

As the third step, and the most important, he suggests a world wide campaign of peace education—the cultivation of the spirit of brotherhood condensed into the commandment, "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

BOX CAR BANDIT WORKS AT WINONA

Tramp at Winona Shot by Hold-up Just as Jimmy Kane Was Wounded at La Crescent

An echo of the wounding of "Section Boss" Jimmy Kane, who was shot in the shoulder and side by a hold-up man while taking a nap in a box car at La Crescent was seen by local authorities today in the shooting of George Lescoco, at Winona, under similar circumstances.

It is reported at Winona that a bandit is making a practice of "sticking up" knights of the road in the railroad yards at that place.

Lescoco and William Ding reported to the police that they were held up. Ding submitted. Lescoco resisted and was shot in the leg.

Police here believe the same man who shot Lescoco put the bullet into Kane, who was also wounded when he refused to "stand and deliver."

"THE CHRISTIAN" IS WELL RECOMMENDED

"The greatest picture since "Quo Vadis," is how many people are today characterizing "The Christian," the film version of Hall Caine's masterpiece, which is now appearing at the Majestic.

When "The Christian" was exhibited at Mayville, Rev. Frank B. Dunkley, pastor of the Methodist church there, wrote Jack M. Schwartz, representative of the Reliable Feature film company:

"Last night I had the pleasure of attending that master picture, 'The Christian,' in the Modjeska theater of this city. To say that I was delighted with it is to put it very mildly. I was more than delighted. The picture is full of vital interest from start to finish, and is a splendid interpretation of Hall Caine's wonderful story. The photography is beautiful, the acting is a revelation of the art, and better than all, the lessons taught by the picture are elevating and helpful. I am glad I had the opportunity of seeing it, and I heartily wish you all success with it. I wish that all lovers of good pictures could see it."

Hope may bud when it is cloudy but it blooms only in sunshine.

The people who built the Pyramids did a job that has never been beaten.

From foundations to cap-stones they were constructed to endure.

There was no overweight anywhere and no part was too weak or too light to match the other parts.

Hence the lasting qualities of the Pyramids.

Diamond Tires are built, as the Pyramids were built, to last.

Every part is made to wear just as long as the other parts endure.

Consequently Diamond Squeegee Tread Tires made a record in 1914 that has never been matched.

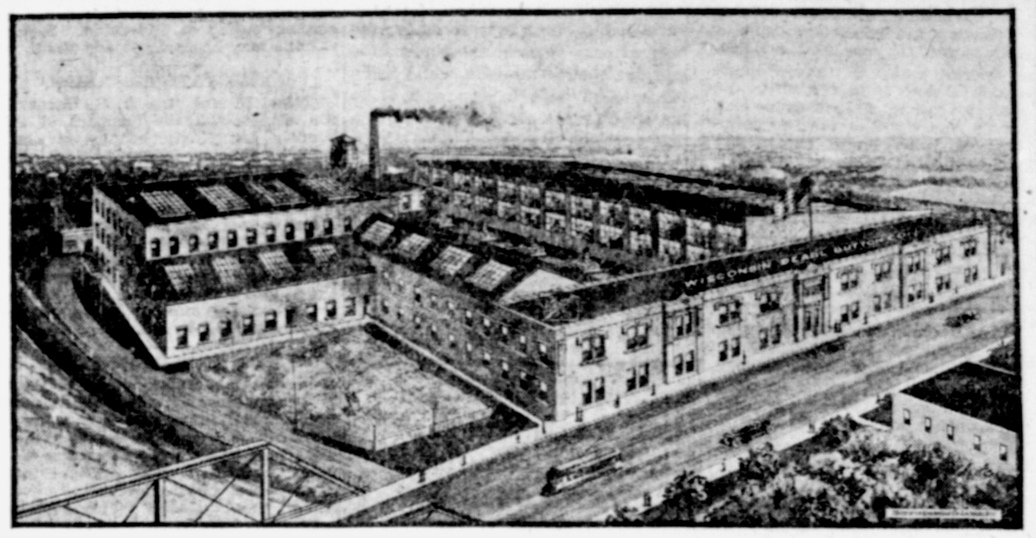
AIRY AND COMFORTABLE NEW PLANT OF THE WISCONSIN PEARL BUTTON CO.



The new plant of the Wisconsin Pearl Button company, which will soon be completed, will represent the last word in construction of a pearl button factory.

The company will require aproximately seventy-five new employes immediately upon the completion of the plant and more later on. It is the policy of the company to encourage their employes by filling responsible positions from the ranks of the employes and all their foremen and other executives have been thus obtained.

The most improved conveniences, such as rest rooms, cloak rooms, lunch rooms, etc., have been installed for the employes, with the desire to make the work as pleasant and interesting as possible. Every department will be continually supplied with fresh air by a modern ventilating system. The new plant will have 45 of the latest improved automatic button machines and its manufacturing capacity will be doubled.

The Wisconsin Pearl Button company occupies four acres of ground and their buildings have over 40,000 square feet of floor space. In addition to their plant at La Crosse, where they employ over 300 people, they have cutting plants in Minnesota, Michigan and Arkansas.

The output of the company has been increased steadily since it started in business in 1898, having enjoyed marked increases in the sale of its output during the past seven years.

The product of this La Crosse institution finds its way to every state in the union, Canada, Cuba, Porto Rico and Europe, and is beginning to open up South American markets.

The boy, whose name is now Lee, was formally adopted by his mother's second husband. She died recently, leaving an estate estimated at nearly $1,000,000. Others are said by deputy game wardens to be implicated in the scheme, whereby pelts of Canadian wolves were bought for prices ranging from $2.50 to $4.50 each, and then turned over to Wisconsin county clerks for the $20 bounty, half of which is paid by the county and half by the state. Whitt and others are alleged to have been operating this system for five years.

FLOODS THREATEN KANSAS FOLLOWING THURSDAY'S STORM

Rivers Rise Above Marks of the Year and Lowlands Resemble Lake Regions

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 19.—Floods today threaten Kansas. A rise of from five to six feet to flood stage is predicted in the Kaw here, while the weather bureau expects the Missouri river to go within twenty-six and twenty-seven feet— the highest water in the "Big Muddy" this year.

All streams in Kansas are on a tear. Another heavy rain within 24 hours in the Kaw water-shed would cause serious damage.

At Manhattan the Big Blue stood at 26 feet, one inch, early today—eight feet above the previous record this year. Lowlands resemble lakes. If the rise continues, one-fourth of Manhattan will be under water.

At Clay Center the Republican has passed the 21 foot mark—three feet higher than the recent mark.

Railroad traffic along the Kaw and its tributaries is demoralized. Three passenger trains are tied up at Manhattan. The Blue Valley branch and the L. K. & W. branch of the Union Pacific have both suspended service until the waters recede.

Reports of damage in Thursday night's storm indicate that a series of small tornadoes swept various sections.

Damage at Holdrege

HASTINGS, Neb., June 19.—Extensive damage was caused by hail and wind at Holdrege, fifty miles west of here last night. All wires to that city are down and railroad traffic is suspended. Towns near Holdrege reported to the local telephone office that several persons were killed in Holdrege.

HASTINGS, Neb., June 19.—Slate shingles on the roof of the Burlington depot were smashed, and tiling on the roof of the postoffice was cracked by hail stones of unusual circumference which fell last night. Some of the stones which were imbedded in mud measured nearly nine inches in circumference. Crops in a six mile strip near Wilcox were ruined.

TWO DISMISSED

AUSTRIAN FLEET ATTEMPTS FIRING OF NAPTHA WORKS

Togliamento Lighthouse Is Bombarded and Attack Made on Town of Monopoli

ROME, June 19.—Both Austrian and Italian fleets are raiding seaport towns on the Adriatic and harassing hostile shipping.

An Italian destroyer flotilla last night drove off an Austrian squadron that bombarded the Tagliamento lighthouse, and early today bombarded the Austrian lighthouse at Salvore, 16 miles southwest of Trieste.

ROME, June 19.—The Austrian fleet bombarded the lighthouse at Tagliamento and attempted to set fire to the naptha reservoirs at Monopoli. The ministry of marine also announced today that an Italian dirigible bombarded the Austrian ammunition depot at Trieste.

The Tagliamento lighthouse lies thirty-four miles northwest of Venice at the mouth of the Tagliamento river. Monopoli is an Italian seaport town twenty-seven miles south of Btri and nearly 400 miles from the port of Tagliamento. It is evident that two Austrian squadrons raided the Italian coast.

The four men are L. Kennedy, Charles De Mar, John Lintsch and Otto Miller. Kennedy says his home is Oakland, Cal., and the others profess to come from Chicago.

From articles in their possession the police believe they are recently from St. Paul. No robberies in which tobacco or stamps were the loot have been reported to the local police.

TWO ARRESTED IN ANOTHER'S BUGGY

Police Catch Alleged Horse Thieves Half an Hour After Complaint Is Received

Half an hour after Walter Hansen called up from Schroeder's saloon on the South Salem road with a complaint that his horse and buggy had been stolen, Patrolman Roberge picked up the missing turn-out on Avon street, on the north side, with two men from Houston, Minn.

The two, Edward Benson, 27, and Olaf Florin, 27, are awaiting arraignment on a charge of horse stealing in central police station.

When arrested, Benson and Florin claimed the horse as theirs until directly accused of taking it from Schroeder's place. Then they declared they "must have got the wrong horse."

Hanson, the owner, returned to his home at Midway after identifying the horse and rig. He is expected to appear against Benson and Florin.

OPEN BIDS FOR HEATING PLANT AT COURT HOUSE

Bids for the installation of a new heating plant in the county court house and repairing of plumbing at the county jail were opened at the court house today by the buildings and grounds committee of the board of supervisors.

An appropriation of $4,500 was made by the board at its last meeting for the two purposes, although it is the opinion of the committee that the entire sum will not be expended.

The sort of heating system that will be installed will be selected when all bids are received. As far as is known only one foreign concern will compete with the local concerns.

Lloyd's shipping registry lists no steamer named the Duelje.

ITALIANS SILENCE AUSTRIAN FORTRESS

Malborget in Carnic Alps Crumbles Under Heavy Fire from Siege Guns

ROME, June 19.—Italian artillery has silenced the Austrian fortress of Malborget, dominating important passes and peaks in the Carnic Alps.

Gen. Cadorna reported to the war office today that shells tore great holes in the outer works of Malborget and sent part of the stone defenses tumbling in ruins. The bombardment continued for several days, the explosion of ammunition magazines inside the fortress adding to the work of destruction.

Italian dirigibles have played an important part in the operations along the Isonzo front in the last few days. Carrying heavy cargoes of explosives by airships sped along the Austrian lines Thursday night and early yesterday, bombarding the enemy positions.

The battle around Goritz is "assuming larger proportions," Gen. Cadorna reported today, particularly on the east bank of the Isonzo six miles above the city. Heavy enemy forces are being hurled against fortified heights held by the Italians near Plava.

Complete reports to the war office today showed that the Austrian bombardment of Fano and other Adriatic seaports yesterday morning resulted in practically no damage. None of the shells fell near railway buildings, which were the objects of Austrian attack.

CONDUCTORS AND DRIVER VICTIMS OF BANDIT GANG

CHICAGO, June 19.—Two street car conductors and a chauffeur were the victims of a new set of auto bandits here early today. Four young men about midnight stopped Ray Evarts and after taking $7 from him took the car.

The quartet was next heard from on the South side, where they held up a street car and at the point of several revolvers forced the conductor to hand out all his money—$15. A few minutes later and in the same district they robbed another conductor of $8.

RITTER HAS NOT YET LEFT FORCE

"Whys" of Moves in European War

BY J. W. T. MASON
(Written for the United Press.)

NEW YORK, June 19.—11 a. m.—Lemberg's fall may now be announced at almost any time. The Austrians today are within fifteen miles of this city, advancing from the southwest, and the Germans are thirty miles away, marching from the northwest. The direct railway connecting Przemysl with Lemberg is fifty-eight miles long and nearly forty miles of it is in possession of the Teutons. The outer defenses of Lemberg have been reached and only a large concentration of troops with adequate ammunition can save the Galician capital from capitulation.

The Germans are developing a new tactical maneuver to prevent the Russians from falling back upon Lemberg in their retreat and thus consolidating for a final defense. General Von Mackenzen is using part of his army dating for a final defense. General Von Mackenzen is using part of his army to drive the Slavs across the northern Galician boundary into Russia, where they are effectively separated from Lemberg. This subordinate offensive is directed against the right wing of the Slavs who are retreating from the San river.

The Dniester river operations south of Lemberg are not progressing as satisfactorily as is the advance easthward from the San. There have been interruptions of the German crossing of the Dneister near Lemberg and the more secure crossings reported by the Austrians are too far to the southeast to have any present influence on the Lemberg operations. They are important principally because they prevent the Russians in southwestern Galicia from moving to Lemberg to assist the defense of the capital.

The Austrians, who are now at Grodek, fifteen miles southwest of Lemberg, are threatening to cut off the Russians along the Dneister. If the Teutonic troops at Grodek are numerous enough to move across the three railways which lead to the south and southeast from Lemberg, Russia's army will become isolated.

Ucle Ezra Harkins bought a pustige stamp last November, intendin' to rite to his brother out in Arizony, but his brother was hanged for hoss stealin' that same week and Uncle Ezra never had no use fer the stamp. He tried to sell it back to the pustmaster the other day.

for the appointment of an administrator of the estate of Louisa Bonnema, late of the Village of New Amsterdam, in said County of La Crosse, deceased.

Dated May 28th, A. D., 1915.

Time tells the tale of quality—Crochet and Embroidery work done with Klostersilk lasts and retains its original charm through years of wear and launderings.

It's the Klostersilk Quality.

(Written for the United Press.)

Yesterday's Homers

Felch, White Sox, off Davis, Athletics.

Shaw, Kawfeds, off Quinn, Turtles.

Kauff, Brookfeds, off Hearne, Pittfeds.

Miner Brown blanked the Buffeds with one hit—that made by Jack Dalton. Curses on you, Jack Dalton!

Mr. Mack's anguished Athletics were walloped again by the White Sox. Another defeat means the cellar.

The Tigers stole seven bases off the Senators, T. R. C. getting three of them. Old stuff, that.

Baltimore and Kawcity put up a bush league exhibition, the Turtles winning 17 to 10. Stovall used five pitchers with unvarying success.

It's still 27 days until the 16th of July. So Mr. Stallings is riding easy, merely waiting for the psychological moment, as 'twere.

That American league race is disgusting—when one wins, they all win—that is Boston, Chicago and Detroit.

The Red Sox kicked the Benevolent Browns still farther down the ladder of oblivion yesterday.

And Poll Perritt was trimmed again. It's getting to be a habit with Poll. The Pirates stung him for eight hits and five runs in 2 2-3 innings.

The Braves are getting harder to lick as the fatal 16th approaches. It took the Cards twelve innings to accomplish the feat yesterday.

Bill Steen.

At his own request, Pitcher Bill Steen has been released by the Cleveland Indians to the Detroit Tigers. Steen got so he couldn't pitch a good game for the Indians, but he believes the change will make a new man of him.

NEW YORK FIGHT WIN FOR DUNDEE

Italian Puncher Too Much for East Side Dentist; Welsh Victor in Slow Bout

BY BARRY FARIS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, June 19.—Johnny Dundee stands supreme among New York's lightweights. The Italian battler with the Scotch monicker last night handed the veteran East side dentist, Leach Cross, the tastiest trimming of his career. Dundee slammed his way to victory via the popular decision route before more than 10,000 people in Ebbets field in Brooklyn.

Freddie Welsh appeared on the same card dealing out a victory over Jack Lustig, a second rater.

Dundee and Cross put up the fastest, most spectacular battle staged in New York in years. The bout didn't drag for a second.

Dundee bounded up and down and in and out, bewildering Cross so badly that the East sider looked like a raw novice. In one round only—the tenth—did Cross look good. Cross caught Dundee flush on the jaw right in the last session and the Italian slowed down. He recovered quickly, however, and danced out of harm's way.

PORTO RICAN ASKS BETTER TREATMENT FOR HIS ISLAND

Testifying Before Industrial Commission Requests Treatment as Americans

(By LOWELL MELLET)
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, June 19. — It seems that when General Miles occupied Porto Rico in 1898 and the U. S. military bands marched here and there playing "A Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," it was sweet music to the Porto Ricans. But it seems further that the same music would not be so sweet today.

"It was like a hymn of redemption," said Prudencia Rivera Martinez, testifying before the Industrial Commission in Washington recently.

Martinez is president of the Cigarmakers' Union of Porto Rico and a handsome, correctly dressed young man, infinitely carefully and correctly dressed, much more so, in fact, than John D. Rockefeller, junior, who preceded him before the commission. So handsome a youth and so correct of attire one scarcely would expect to find coming this far to fight for the barefoot laborers of his own land. But neither of those qualities seemed to weigh heavily on Martinez' mind, while the troubles of his people did. He made a distinct impression on the members of the commission.

And then talking about it afterward, he relieved his mind further first having laid the groundwork of his discontent in a recital of the slavery under which Porto Rican laborers had suffered through centuries of Spanish suppression. It is to this same Spanish heritage that defenders of conditions as they are on the island point. "We cannot be expected to have removed entirely in 16 years the work of several hundred years," they say.

But Martinez and his fellows want matters corrected in the light of present civilization. It is not the customs of old that are to blame, they say, but "an anti-American reaction."

"The island of Porto Rico never confronted a situation similar to that now prevailing," he said. "Certain combined rich corporations and certain officials are responsible for the most iniquitous tyranny over the poor peasants. During the last agricultural laborers' strike six workmen were killed by the police, 100 wounded and 300 jailed. Several meetings were disbanded by shots and clubbing following criticisms of the government officials and the sugar corporations' overseers and agents. Constitutional rights of the laborer have been denied time and again.

"The working people have been deliberately terrorized, we believe, to make them think it is a crime to go on strike.

"On the one hand the school budget has been cut down $700,000 while on the other $80,000 has been voted to aid the sugar planters. More than 250,000 children are deprived of an education, but the business interests are protected.

"We want an investigation of conditions by a commission from the United States congress and next fall intend to make every effort to obtain it. We can substantiate our charge that while 800,000 Porto Ricans in the agricultural district are absolutely unprotected from exploitation, the big corporations that have the benefit of their labor are making millions.

"We want to be treated as Americans, not as peons or serfs. Just now, while our independence is pending, we are a people without a country. We feel that what we ask of this, our ruling country, is not more than we are entitled to ask."

For and Against Cremation.

Cremation seems to be becoming a necessity, especially around the large centers of population declare advocates of the practice. At the rate at which cemeteries are increasing around such cities as New York and London, each of which requires about twenty-four acres of additional land annually to bury the dead, it has been predicted that the cities of the living will be veritably encompassed by "cities of the dead." Humanity is reluctant to give up the age-long practice of inhumation, some anticremationists declaring that "when the body is consumed by heat the soul is at the same time destroyed." Legal-minded objecters also point out that "it destroys all evidence of crime where murder by poison has been committed." In reply the cremationists argue "that cremation is the only hygienic, sanitary and economic method of disposing of our dead."

Apes Can't Twiddle Their Thumbs.

The gorilla and chimpanzee, which belong to the higher order of apes, have many points of resemblance to man, but there is one thing they cannot do—that is, twiddle their thumbs. In the gorilla the thumb is short and does not reach much beyond the bottom of the first joint of the forefinger. It is very much restricted in its movements, and the animal can neither twiddle his thumbs nor turn them round so that the tips describe a circle. There are the same number of bones in the hand of the gorilla as in the hand of a man, but the thumbs of the monkey have no separate flexor or bending muscle. This is why a monkey always keeps the thumb on the same side as the fingers, and never bends it round any object that he may grasp.

A GOOD INVESTMENT
To close an estate we offer for sale a tract of land, located south and east of Gund's brewery; good black soil, very near city water, paved street and only about three blocks from the street railway. Why not buy a few acres instead of lots, use it for chicken and truck farm and at the same time have a sure profit in your land in city lots? This land is ripe now for platting and it will not be long before you can sell a lot for as much as you now pay for an acre. S. W. Anderson, Batavian Bank Building.

DEMOCRATS ARE CREDITED WITH TAX BILL DEFEAT

Death of Measure Surprise to Opponents Who Had Conceded It Would Pass with Margin

TO RECONSIDER WEDNESDAY?

Floor Leader Everett of the Administration Forces Changes Vote to Move Reconsideration

MADISON, Wis., June 19.—(Special.)—The greatest surprise of the legislative session was sprung Friday when the assembly by a vote of 49 to 42 indefinitely postponed the bill abolishing the tax commission. The action came as a bolt from a clear sky as it had been conceded by the opponents of the measure that the bill would pass with votes to spare.

Analyzing the landslide, the roll call shows that, as in the water-power bill, the democrats turned the trick. It was a foregone conclusion that the progressives and the socialist members would vote against the measure, but a pre-vote canvass failed to reveal any pronounced antipathy for the bill on the part of the members on the right hand side of the house.

Up Next Wednesday

Assemblyman E. A. Everett of Vilas county, floor leader for the administration forces, changed his vote for reconsideration, as soon as he saw the tide of battle going against him. The bill will be up before the house again on Wednesday. The Philipp men claim that they will turn the tables when the measure is again taken under consideration, but this is doubted. Of the absent members who will be back next week, the majority of votes are against the bill. It is known that two of the members who voted for the bill on Friday will vote against on reconsideration. Altogether, the administration men have their work cut out for them if the bill is to be put over. The roll call on the vote to kill the bill was as follows:

Against the bill: Ballard, Biel, Byce, Dobie, Donnelly, Engebretson, Everett (changed for reconsideration), Falk, Feldhausen, Frechoff, Gruenewald, Hagar, Hambrecht, Hanson, Julius, Heathoots, Hedon, Herzog, Hess, Hoffman, Janssen, Johnson, Kay, Kent, Kleinsteiber, Lentz, McGovern, Melvin, Metcalf, Minkley, Mortenson, Nye, O'Brien, Ofstie, Pickart, Pools, Reinhardt, Rentz, Schroeder, Spoor, Smith, Stemper, Towe, Van de Zande, Vint, Weber, Wells, Whitcomb, Zinn—49.

For the bill: Arnemann, Aulenbacher, Beckwith, Berninger, Bradley, Budlong, Caldwell, Cretney, Dickie, Dixon, Edwards, Ellingsen, Franzen, Gamper, Grell, Carl Hanson, F. S. Hanson, Harrington, Hart, Hedding, Heim, Jensen, Killa, Krambs, Kubasta, Kurtenacker, Lathrop, Laursen, Moran, Morgan, Nelson, Neumeister, Pieper, Ploeger, Prescott, Schindler, Stewart, Van Gordon, Winegar, Woodard, Whittet—42.

Paired—For the bill, Vincent; against the bill, Fredericks.

Nordman Amendment Legal

The opinion given out by Attorney General Owen declaring the Nordman amendment to the Ackley water-power bill constitutional, has cast a pall over the hopes of the power men. It was declared on the floor of the assembly that even if the amendment did pass it would be declared void. The bill will be rehashed in the senate. It is said that the Nordman amendment will be rejected in the senior division of the legislature and sent back to the house.

The concurrence by the house on Friday of the Stemper bill, giving 200 saloons in Milwaukee the right to apply for licenses puts the matter up to the governor. It will be signed, according to advices from close friends of the governor. The Hanson amendment providing that 200 other saloons will have to be put out of business in Milwaukee somewhat tempers the effect of the act. The effect throughout the state, however, will be the same and it is declared that the Baker law is split wide open.

GRELL DEFENDS BILL

MADISON, Wis., June 19.—(Special.)—In a statement to the public today, Assemblyman H. J. Grell defended his bill to legalize the manufacture and sale of skim milk cheese in Wisconsin as a measure to make possible an opportunity to add $2,000,000 to the value of Wisconsin's dairy products. In his opinion is was a conservation measure, as it permits the utilizing of by-products of the dairy business.

GREAT DISMAY CAUSED BY FRENCH AIR ATTACK ON KARLSRUHE TUESDAY

BY KARL W. ACKERMAN.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

KARLSRUHE, via Berlin and The Hague, June 17.—(Delayed.)—Sirens were blowing, bells ringing and inhabitants hurrying to shelter at a second aerial alarm as my train arrived here this morning from Berlin. In the distance I heard the crack of many guns.

"It's a second air attack," we were told at the station.

This time, instead of staying in the streets and staring skyward, the inhabitants prudently sought shelter. The guns' roar became noisier and two German aeroplanes flew very low over the city in sweeping circles, reconnoitering and on watch for enemy airmen.

In the air raid on Karlsruhe on Tuesday, twenty-seven persons were killed and sixty wounded. I came here from Berlin to investigate the report that Americans were among the wounded. I found twenty-six of them unhurt, but badly frightened at this sudden attack upon an open town.

Mrs. M. Valentine, 333 West Eighteenth street, New York, with her two babies, was terror stricken when a bomb exploded with a great roar in the rear of her residence.

Dr. Joseph Adler, a Boston dentist, was fifty feet away from the spot where several bombs exploded. The concussion broke all the windows in the houses around him.

In Sophienstrasse I met Martha Klingman of Ann Arbor, Mich., a student here. She said she was awakened early Tuesday when a bomb exploded only fifty feet from her bedroom windows.

In another section of Karlsruhe I met I. Krumdick of Grand Junction, Col., formerly a German and French teacher to Mrs. William J. Bryan, at Lincoln, Neb., who lives only seventy yards from a police station. All the windows in this neighborhood were broken by one of the explosives hurled by the French airmen.

An automobile approached, bearing the venerable dowager grand duchess of Baden, aunt of the kaiser, and her daughter, the queen of Sweden. They were traversing the city to see the damage done by the raiders.

The damage from the air raid of Tuesday was not as heavy as I expected. I found no houses or buildings in ruins. Apparently the walls of public buildings had been the aviators' principal targets.

BIG ADVERTISING CONVENTION OPENS IN WINDY CITY

Five Thousand Ad Men in Chicago for "Faith in Advertising" Convention

CHICAGO, June 19.—Chicago became the greatest advertising center in the world today. With 5,000 ad men here, incoming trains from every section of the country poured additional thousands into the city all during the day. Many delegations came in private cars.

Today's big event will be a ball game between Chicago and St. Louis ad men. Mayor Keel of St. Louis and 500 rooters attended in a body, rooting for St. Louis. Tomorrow morning fifty Chicag pulpits will be occupied by visiting ad men, and the theory of "truth in advertising" and daily life hammered home.

Delegates already were lobbying around the hotels today for the 1916 convention. Cincinnati men were at work early boosting the Ohio city.

"The convention will be the greatest one in our history," said President William Woodhead of San Francisco, today. "We are going to hammer at the 'Made in U. S. A.' idea and truth in advertising. The word 'imported' which so long has been a lure for American dollars, is going to lose its charm after this convention."

One of the features of the convention will be the mammoth parade. A California bear, mascot of the Los Angeles contingent, will lead the procession.
